“Welcome to my house! Enter freely and of your own will!”

COUNT DRACULA

Jonathan Harker, a young English solicitor, travels east to complete the sale of a London house to a Transylvanian nobleman. At the Borgo Pass a calèche is waiting for him. At the castle the great door is opened to him — and then, one by one, he finds every other door locked.

Book I of three: chapters I–IV of Bram Stoker’s novel of 1897, read by a cast drawn from the Amenti Library of Legends, with paintings, music and the sounds of the castle.

THE COMPANY

Charles Darwin · Jonathan Harker

Vlad the Impaler · Count Dracula

Hildegard of Bingen · the Landlady

Báthory, de’ Medici, Elisabeth · the Three Women

BRAM STOKER

DRACULA

BOOK I · THE CASTLE

AMENTI STUDIOS

READ BY A CAST FROM THE LIBRARY OF LEGENDS